Neelay's career on five continents includes Disney, The Super Bowl, The Olympics, besides several years of consulting, public speaking and training. TEDx, the global platform for ideas, describes him as a business and communications visionary, and his service on the National Recreation and Park Association's Board of Directors served to ensure that 'no child is left indoors'.

He champions "Ideas Worth Spreading" as the curator and organizer for Maryland's signature TEDx event: TEDxCollegePark besides curating TEDxIndianapolis, TEDxIndianapolisWomen, and the NCAA's signature event Final Four Talks. In addition, he's led a TED Global workshop in Canada, presented multiple TEDx talks and continues to coach TEDx presenters.

As an alumnus of the Harvard Kennedy School and #1 ranked Sports Management Program at Ohio University, his keynotes and talks on magical customer service, trends, empathetic leadership and the art of storytelling have benefited executives, professionals, startups and students from New York State to China and from Europe to New Zealand.

As the Principal at PROS Consulting INC. (headquartered in Indianapolis), he has led 130+ strategic and master planning, sports facility development and customer service training projects which have recommended facility development and infrastructure improvements totaling over $2 billion USD and are helping shape a better vision for health and wellness, conservation and social equity in communities globally.
